

PittMed Professionalism Accolade

CONGRATULATIONS!

Emily Cunningham, MD

Clinical Associate Professor
Department of Obstetrics,
Gynecology & Reproductive Services

“I worked with Dr. Cunningham on my OBGYN rotation and spoke with several other students who have worked with her in the past. She consistently goes out of her way to provide students with a great learning experience. Her commitment to medical education is remarkable and rare. She often uses Pictionary to teach, which is fun and helpful. She is engaging, caring, and creative in how she teaches medical students. She challenges her students with an approach and demeanor that allows them to learn without feeling intimidated. She allows students to take an active role in surgery and deliveries, regardless of their specialty interest. She is a major asset to the Pitt Med community. I hope that all students here have an opportunity to work with someone like Dr. Cunningham.”
