

PittMed Professionalism Accolade

CONGRATULATIONS!

Joshua Ong

Medical Student, MS3

“Senior medical student Josh Ong was instrumental in the development and delivery of the "Virtual Ophthalmoscopy" sessions for PittMed MS1s that took place on January 12, 13, 14. He and his peers spent hours in planning sessions, collecting photos, practicing teaching and ultimately delivering this novel content to the junior medical students. I was impressed by the students' creativity, organization and their obvious joy in learning and teaching the subject matter.

In addition, at the request of the admissions department, he & the team staged an encore performance for the PittMed Second Look Day on the evening of April 23.

These sessions would not have been possible without him.

I am grateful for the opportunity to work with him and wanted to express my admiration for his professionalism.”
