CONGRATULATIONS!

Christopher Schott, MD

Associate Professor
Department of Critical Care Medicine and Department of Emergency Medicine

“I took your CCM elective last February and wanted to let you know that because of your teaching, I legitimately saved someone’s life. I was the doctor on call and responded to a Condition A. I literally had this moment where I thought to myself, “this is it. This is what I have been training for.” While it had been over a year since completing your course, I mentally returned to the WISER room and calmly and methodically worked my way down the mental checklist. I navigated several hurdles and we managed to get a pulse back after intubation. I will never forget that moment where I 100% earned my M.D. Your class has been instrumental throughout my intern year and I have been able to serve as a resource to my co-interns who did not have the opportunity to take a similar course. Thank you for all that you do for students and please know it truly makes an impact for patients.”
